4 October 1978

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

THROUGH : Director, National Foreign Assessment Center
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM : Associate Coordinator for Academic Relations and External Analytical Support, NFAC

SUBJECT : Meeting with University Presidents

1. Action Requested: Signature on the attached letters to three university presidents inviting them to the Agency for a day of discussions and briefings on 26 October.

2. Background: The letter is similar to that sent to the other university presidents. The following names were approved for the March get-together, but no invitation was ever sent:

Theodore Hesburgh
Frederick Davison
Dallin H. Oaks

University of Notre Dame
University of Georgia
Brigham Young University

(See attachment for bio sketches)

3. Mr. Bowie has suggested that we increase the size of our group. He feels that the time and effort expended would be better justified if "eight but at least six" were to attend. It seems unlikely that we will be able to expand our group above the four or five for this get-together. There is not sufficient time to compose a new list of college presidents, run a preliminary security check, send new invitations, and expect the invitees to be able to make the 26 October meeting.

SUBJECT: Meeting with University Presidents

4. Four university presidents have already accepted our invitation for 26 October. They are:

Wesley Posvar
Josiah Bunting
William Edward Lavery
H. Edwin Young

University of Pittsburgh
Hampden-Sydney College
Virginia Polytechnic Institute
University of Wisconsin

Theodore Friend, Swarthmore, is a possible. He is trying to rearrange his schedule and will get back to us later this week. The four who have accepted are highly articulate and energetic and at least two you already know. I believe a full day's program with them would be a great success.

5. The tentative program is similar to those previously run. The only major difference is in the time. We are starting one hour later because most of our guests will be arriving in the area the morning of 26 October.

6. Actions Recommended:

a. That you sign the letters to the three university presidents.

b. That you indicate your concurrence with the arrangements proposed for handling the third university presidents visit.

Dear President Hesburgh:

Since its inception, the Central Intelligence Agency has sought to maintain effective relationships with scholars and academic institutions throughout the United States. These relationships have been of inestimable value to the intelligence community and ultimately, to the foreign policymakers it serves.

In the wake of considerable public criticism over the last several years, however, the Agency has had difficulty in maintaining these open and mutually beneficial relationships. I would like to ask your help and advice in determining how best to restore a useful but proper connection between academia and the world of intelligence.

Clearly there are limits beyond which we in the intelligence profession should not go in dealing with members of the academic community. I do have very express rules with respect to that today, but how we are operating within these rules is not always clear to others. Today there are also many new opportunities to use unclassified information derived through the collection of intelligence for the benefit of academic research. I do not believe that we have the proper mechanism today to ensure the adequate provisions of such information to academic institutions.

Accordingly, I would like to ask you to join with me and several other university presidents and leaders of the American academic community on 26 October for a day here at the Central Intelligence Agency. The objective would be to have a free-flowing exchange of ideas on how to reestablish the academic-intelligence relationship on a sound and proper basis for mutual advantage. This will be a quiet, private meeting of perhaps six of us, during which we will take the opportunity of asking you to visit our CIA facilities and to meet with a variety of Agency officers representing diverse interests and disciplines. My hope would be that in your spending a day with us, our relationship might improve to our mutual benefit, taking into full account the problems of the past and the attitudes of the present.

STATINTL

I have asked [REDACTED] of my Academic Relations staff to be in touch with you directly. They will be available to discuss my invitation further with you, and to make arrangements, if as I hope, you will be able to accept.

Yours sincerely,

signed
